

Biography DONYALE GRISSON

Donyale is married to a really cool guy (he is truly a gift designed just for her) and has two great girls (ages 25 & 21). These wonderful people have contributed to her training in the areas of loving unconditionally, nurturing, building, empowering, encouraging, and supporting.

A life-long learner, she is currently pursuing a Masters Degree in Business Administration for the sole purpose of acquiring new information to be more effective in all she does. For the past 20 years, Donyale has worked at a wireless company and has held various roles that have allowed her to expand and grow both professionally and personally. She has had the opportunity to work with people who inspired her to reach higher to make her goals a reality. Today, as a manager of customer experience projects, encouraging, inspiring, building others, and driving change are all part of her daily responsibilities.

At home, in the marketplace, or in the community, Donyale's purpose never changes. She is not afraid of being transparent and sharing her life experiences and key learnings with others because she understands that in doing so, she may help them overcome their challenges. Donyale is excited to see others learn, heal, and grow - especially young women.

Contrary to how society depicts women, Donyale believes that we are not our negative experiences, we are not our circumstances, and we are not the degrading images we see. We are ladies (young and seasoned) who are loving, valuable, intelligent, talented, beautiful, respectful, unselfish, confident, and purposed. On that note, leaving you with her favorite lyric from a song that she has now deemed her vision statement:

"I am on my way...to Who I AM!"
